Great Britain.—The Times publishes a long letter from a correspondent at Valentia in regard to the difficulty on the Atlantic Cable. The review is rather a discouraging one, but it is nevertheless stated that Mr. Henley, who has been for some days making experiments on the cable, is sangaine of making the line again serviceable by the use of his powerful magnetic electric machines, which are now on their way from London. Mr. Lundy, one of the assistants, has come to Newfoundland to ascertain the condition of the wire at Trinity o ascertain the condition of the wire at Trinity Bay, and to arrange a day on which a certain well-known code of signals are to be sent at concerted times from both ends and to endeavor thus to re-establish intelligible communication.
